

major thirds:

minor thirds

All triads and seventh chords are made out of these intervals; practice them by starting on a note and building a minor and major third up from that note; do it again by starting on a note and building a minor or major third down from that note.